PROFILE

Junior copywriter and Computer Science graduate building a portfolio of speculative projects across packaging, social, email, e-commerce and landing page copy. Six months of experience in an IT support internship, explaining technical problems in plain language and documenting solutions accurately. Looking for a part-time copywriting role where I can learn on real briefs.

COPYWRITING PORTFOLIO (SPECULATIVE PROJECTS)

Portfolio website: iwule-micheal.github.io

2026

- Five practice projects, each clearly labelled as speculative or fictional and presented as a case study: objective, audience, brand voice, copy and strategy.
- Packaging copy concept for an invented KONG product (front and back of pack, tagline, callouts), labelled as an uncommissioned concept.
- Social campaign, promotional email and e-commerce product page copy for fictional brands.
- Landing page copy for a fictional app, built as a working website in HTML and CSS and published on GitHub Pages.

EXPERIENCE

IT Support Intern (SIWES), Omoruyi Global International Venture Limited

Apr 2025 – Oct 2025

Lagos, Nigeria

- Gave first-line support to staff, explaining technical issues and fixes in plain language to non-technical colleagues.
- Wrote and maintained records of recurring issues and their solutions, so future support was faster and more consistent.
- Followed structured procedures to diagnose hardware, software and network problems accurately.
